

Social media content captions: HealthyKitsap.org

USE OF BANNER IMAGE/AESTHETIC

Social caption 1:

Kitsap Public Health has created a guide to immunization in the county! Staying up to date on routine vaccines is a safe and effective way to protect yourself, your family, and our community. Learn how to get caught up: healthykitsap.org #HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

Kitsap healthcare professionals support immunization as a key tool for keeping us healthy. Have questions about vaccines? Talk to your healthcare provider or check out healthykitsap.org #HealthyKitsap

Social caption 3:

What vaccines are recommended for me? How do I know what vaccines I've already had? How do I get vaccinated?

If you have vaccine questions, Kitsap Public Health has answers. Check out its guide to vaccination in Kitsap at healthykitsap.org.

#HealthyKitsap

SPOKESPEOPLE/TRUSTED VOICES

Sharon Blancaflor

Social caption 1:

As a registered nurse and mother, Sharon Blancaflor keeps up to date on immunizations and to stay safe, protected, and healthy.

Learn more about what Sharon has to say here: healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices

#HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

“I believe that vaccines save lives and save us precious time with our loved ones.” - Sharon Blancaflor, RN BSN

Sharon is a registered nurse and a mother who prioritizes routine immunizations to protect herself, her loved ones, and her community.

Hear more from Sharon and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices

#HealthyKitsap

Barbara Hoffman

Social caption 1:

As a tribal public health manager, Barbara Hoffman believes in the importance of routine immunization to prevent diseases and protect the health of people of all ages.

"Immunizations are just as important as eating healthfully, being physically active or managing stress in helping to prevent disease. I stay up to date so that I can be as healthy as possible," she said.

Hear more from Barbara and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

"I stay up to date on immunizations so that I can be as healthy as possible." – Barbara Hoffman, DNP, RN, CDE

Hear more from Barbara and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Dr. Niran Al-Agba

Social caption 1:

Pediatrician Dr. Niran Al-Agba stays up to date on immunizations to protect herself and her young patients.

Hear more from Dr. Al-Agba and other local health professionals at:

healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices

#HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

“I stay caught up on immunizations to protect myself, my family, and most importantly, my patients.” – Dr. Niran Al-Agba Silverdale pediatrician Dr. Niran Al-Agba believes that vaccines are safe and effective.

Hear more from Dr. Al-Agba and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Sherry Whitley

Social caption 1:

Bremerton pharmacist Sherry Whitley knows it's especially important to stay up to date on her vaccines to protect those who cannot protect themselves.

"Small children, people with lowered immune systems, and/or those with specific allergies may be unable to get vaccinated, and we can help provide some protection by getting immunized ourselves," she says.

Hear more from Sherry and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

Bremerton pharmacist Sherry Whitley encourages her own family members to stay up to date on vaccinations.

"Discussing my own experience with vaccines and sharing the information I have learned helps them be confident in their decision to get immunized," she says.

Hear more from Sherry and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Sunny Lang

Social caption 1:

For school nurse Sunny Lang, safeguarding the health of students “starts with making sure I’m as healthy as I can be.”

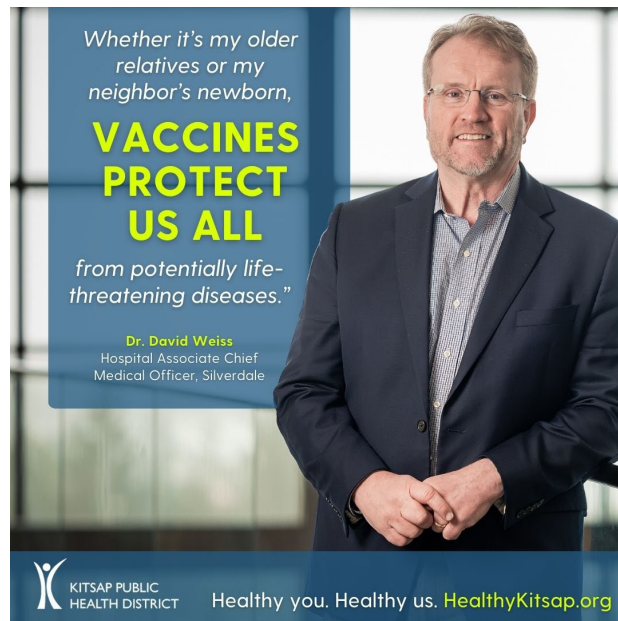

“I stay up to date on routine immunizations to protect myself and people around me,” she says. Hear more from Sunny and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

“By getting vaccinated we protect ourselves, each other, and our entire school community.” – Sunny Lang, RN

School nurse Sunny stays as healthy as she can by staying up to date on vaccinations. Hear more from Sunny and other local health professionals at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

David Weiss

Social caption 1:

Dr. David Weiss stays up to date on immunizations to protect himself and the frontline medical professionals who care for our Kitsap community.

“As a healthcare leader, the most important work I do is working face-to-face with nurses and medical staff. It's crucial that I'm healthy and free of any contagious diseases that could negatively impact other workers or patients,” he says.

Hear more from local health professionals and find out how you can get caught up on immunizations at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

Dr. David Weiss encourages everyone to talk to their healthcare provider about vaccination.

“If you are unsure about the benefits and side effects of a vaccine, take the time to ask your physician or provider.”

Hear more from local health professionals and find out how you can get caught up on immunizations at healthykitsap.org/trustedvoices #HealthyKitsap

Videos

Social caption 1:

Kitsap Public health has launched a countywide campaign to raise awareness of the importance of immunization and make it easy to find useful vaccine information and resources.

Learn more at healthykitsap.org

#HealthyKitsap

Social caption 2:

Staying up to date on routine vaccines is a safe and effective way to protect yourself, your family, and our community.

Healthy You, Healthy Us, Healthy Kitsap!

Learn more: healthykitsap.org #HealthyKitsap